

Auditor's Report

To the general meeting of the shareholders of HCL Technologies Sweden AB, corp. id 556955-5609

Report on the annual accounts

Opinions

We have audited the annual accounts of HCL Technologies Sweden AB for the financial year 2019-04-01—2020-03-31.

In our opinion, the annual accounts have been prepared in accordance with the Annual Accounts Act, and present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of HCL Technologies Sweden AB as of 31 March 2020 and its financial performance and cash flow for the year then ended in accordance with the Annual Accounts Act. The statutory administration report is consistent with the other parts of the annual accounts.

We therefore recommend that the general meeting of shareholders adopts the income statement and balance sheet.

Basis for Opinions

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISA) and generally accepted auditing standards in Sweden. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities section. We are independent of HCL Technologies Sweden AB in accordance with professional ethics for accountants in Sweden and have otherwise fulfilled our ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinions.

Other Matter

The audit of the annual accounts for the financial year 2018-04-01—2019-03-31 was performed by another auditor who submitted an auditor's report dated 29 June 2019, with unmodified opinions in the Report on the annual accounts.

Responsibilities of the Board of Directors

The Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation of the annual accounts and that they give a fair presentation in accordance with the Annual Accounts Act. The Board of Directors is also responsible for such internal control as they determine is necessary to enable the preparation of annual accounts that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the annual accounts The Board of Directors is responsible for the assessment of the company's ability to continue as a going concern. They disclose, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting. The going concern basis of accounting is however not applied if the Board of Directors intend to liquidate the company, to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibility

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the annual accounts as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinions. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs and generally accepted auditing standards in Sweden will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these annual accounts.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the annual accounts, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinions. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of the company's internal control relevant to our audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the company's internal control.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Board of Directors', use of the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the annual accounts. We also draw a conclusion, based on the audit evidence obtained, as to whether any material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the annual accounts or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion about the annual accounts. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the annual accounts, including the disclosures, and whether the annual accounts represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We must inform the Board of Directors of, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit. We must also inform of significant audit findings during our audit, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identified.

Report on other legal and regulatory requirements

Opinions

In addition to our audit of the annual accounts, we have also audited the administration of the Board of Directors of HCL Technologies Sweden AB for the financial year 2019-04-01—2020-03-31 and the proposed appropriations of the company's profit or loss.

We recommend to the general meeting of shareholders that the profit be appropriated in accordance with the proposal in the statutory administration report and that the members of the Board of Directors be discharged from liability for the financial year.

Basis for Opinions

We conducted the audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards in Sweden. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities section. We are independent of HCL Technologies Sweden AB in accordance with professional ethics for accountants in Sweden and have otherwise fulfilled our ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinions.

Responsibilities of the Board of Directors

The Board of Directors is responsible for the proposal for appropriations of the company's profit or loss. At the proposal of a dividend, this includes an assessment of whether the dividend is justifiable considering the requirements which the company's type of operations, size and risks place on the size of the company's equity, consolidation requirements, liquidity and position in general.

The Board of Directors is responsible for the company's organization and the administration of the company's affairs. This includes among other things continuous assessment of the company's financial situation and ensuring that the company's organization is designed so that the accounting, management of assets and the company's financial affairs otherwise are controlled in a reassuring manner.

Auditor's responsibility

Our objective concerning the audit of the administration, and thereby our opinion about discharge from liability, is to obtain audit evidence to assess with a reasonable degree of assurance whether any member of the Board of Directors in any material respect:

- has undertaken any action or been guilty of any omission which can give rise to liability to the company, or
- in any other way has acted in contravention of the Companies Act, the Annual Accounts Act or the Articles of Association.

Our objective concerning the audit of the proposed appropriations of the company's profit or loss, and thereby our opinion about this, is to assess with reasonable degree of assurance whether the proposal is in accordance with the Companies Act.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards in Sweden will always detect actions or omissions that can give rise to liability to the company, or that the proposed appropriations of the company's profit or loss are not in accordance with the Companies Act.

As part of an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards in Sweden, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. The examination of the administration and the proposed appropriations of the company's profit or loss is based primarily on the audit of the accounts. Additional audit procedures performed are based on our professional judgment with starting point in risk and materiality. This means that we focus the examination on such actions, areas and relationships that are material for the operations and where deviations and violations would have particular importance for the company's situation. We examine and test decisions undertaken, support for decisions, actions taken and other circumstances that are relevant to our opinion concerning discharge from liability. As a basis for our opinion on the Board of Directors' proposed appropriations of the company's profit or loss we examined whether the proposal is in accordance with the Companies Act.

Auditor's opinion regarding the statutory sustainability report

To the general meeting of the shareholders in HCL Technologies Sweden AB, corporate identity number 556955-5609

Engagement and responsibility

It is the board of directors who is responsible for the sustainability report for the financial year 2019-04-01—2020-03-31 in the appendix and that it is prepared in accordance with the Annual Accounts Act.

The scope of the examination

Our examination has been conducted in accordance with FAR:s auditing standard RevR 12 The auditor's opinion regarding the statutory sustainability report. #### COVID-19 Impact

Early March 2020 the outbreak of COVID-19 expanded from Asia towards the rest of the world. As governments have taken drastic measures to control the disease, recent developments show the severe consequences it has on the global economy, including various sectors of local economies. Also we expect the impact of COVID-19 being limited as the organization is working together in a virtual mode to prioritize employee safety, to ensure business continuity and to meet customer commitments.

At this moment, given the very high uncertainty surrounding the disease the possible financial impact cannot be reliably estimated and management will follow developments closely. However, based on our sensitised cash flow forecasts we expect the Company to be able to overcome possible fall-backs. As such, based on the aforementioned, our current knowledge and available information we expect that this outbreak will not impact the going-concern of the Company.

Software services revenue

Revenue from software services consist of revenue from variable (based on time and material) and fixed price agreements. Revenue from variable price agreements is recognized as the work is performed. Accrued but not invoiced revenue is accounted for in the balance sheet at the amount which is expected to be invoiced.

The entity recognizes revenue from fixed price agreements as the work is performed, using the percentage of completion method. When calculating accrued income, the completion percentage has been calculated as expenses incurred at the balance sheet date in relation to the total expenses expecting to be incurred to complete the agreement. The difference between recognized revenue and invoiced amount to date is accounted for in the balance sheet. The cumulative impact of any revision in estimates of the percentage of work completed is reflected in the year in which the change becomes known. Provisions for estimated losses are made during the year in which a loss becomes probable based on current contract estimates. Revenue from sale of licenses for the use of software applications is recognized on transfer of title in the user license. Revenue from annual technical service contracts is recognized on a pro rata basis over the period in which such services are rendered. ### Compensation to employees

These include salaries, paid vacation, paid leave, bonuses and compensation after employment ends. Costs are recognized as compensation is earned. Compensation after employment ends consists of defined benefit or defined contribution pension plans. Defined contribution plans are defined as plans where defined fees are paid and the entity does not retain any obligation to pay for any additional expenses in addition to these fees. Defined benefit plans are defined as all other pension plans. The entity does not have any other long-term compensation obligations towards employees.

The entity only has defined contribution pension plans. Expenses for defined contribution pension plans are recognized as costs during the period in which the services are being provided that give rise to the obligations.

Valuation of items in foreign currencies

Receivables and payables in foreign currencies are valued using the rate at the balance sheet date. Gains and losses from valuation of operating receivables and payables are included in the operating profit while gains and losses from valuation of financial receivables and payables are accounted for as financial items.

Taxes

Total taxes consist of current taxes and deferred taxes. Taxes are recognized in the income statement, except when the underlying transaction is accounted for directly to equity in which case the tax effect of the transaction is also accounted for directly to equity.

Current taxes

Current taxes are taxes that concern the current year as well as taxes for prior years that have not yet been recognized. Current taxes are calculated based on the tax rate that is in effect per the balance sheet date.

Deferred taxes

Deferred taxes are income taxes for future years based on prior events. These are accounted for using the balance sheet method. Under this method deferred tax payables and deferred tax receivables are recognized for temporal differences that occur based on differences between book value and tax base value for assets and liabilities as well as for other tax adjustments.

Deferred tax assets are presented net of deferred tax liabilities only if these can be settled with a net payment. Deferred tax is calculated based on the tax rate at the balance sheet date. The effect of changes in the tax rate is recognized in the period in which the change is legislated. Deferred tax receivables are reduced to the part that it is not probable that the underlying tax receivable will be realized within the foreseeable future.

Fixed assets

Goodwill

Positive goodwill arose on acquisition of a business and is capitalised, classified as an asset on the balance sheet and amortised on a straight line basis over its estimated useful economic life. It is reviewed for impairment at the end of the first full financial year following the acquisition and in other periods if events or changes in circumstances indicate the carrying value may not be recoverable.

HCL Technologies Sweden AB
Corporate ID No. 556955-5609
(All amounts are in KSEK, except shares and per share data)

Goodwill arising on acquisition is amortised over 10 years on a straight line basis, the period over which the directors expect to benefit from the reputation, contacts and skills of each acquired business. If a business is subsequently sold or closed, any goodwill arising on acquisition that has not been amortised through the profit and loss account is taken into account in determining the profit or loss on sale or closure.

Intangible fixed assets

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. The cost of intangible assets acquired in an amalgamation in the nature of purchase is their fair value as at the date of amalgamation. Following the initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Internally generated intangible assets, excluding capitalized development costs, are not capitalized and expenditure is reflected in the statement of profit and loss in the year in which the expenditure is incurred.

Intangible assets are amortized in the pattern in which the asset's economic benefits are consumed or on a straight line basis if that pattern cannot be determined reliably. The Group uses a rebuttable presumption that the useful life of an intangible asset will not exceed ten years from the date when the asset is available for use. If the persuasive evidence exists to the affect that useful life of an intangible asset exceeds ten years, the Group amortizes the intangible asset over the best estimate of its useful life.

Customer relationships has an estimated life time of 10 years. The amortization period and the amortization method are reviewed at least at each financial year end. If the expected useful life of the asset is significantly different from the previous estimate, the amortization period is changed accordingly. If there has been a significant change in the expected pattern of economic benefit from the asset, the amortization method is changed to reflect the changed pattern.

Gains or losses arising from derecognition of intangible assets are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the assets and are recognized in the statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognized.

Tangible fixed assets

Tangible fixed assets are recognized at acquisition cost reduced by the accumulated depreciation charges and write-downs (if applicable).

The depreciable amount consists of the acquisition cost reduced with the estimated residual value, if significant. Depreciation is performed linearly over the estimated useful life.

The following depreciation times are used:

Particulars	Useful Life
Computers	4 - 5
Electrical installations	10
Furniture And Fixture	7
Networking Equipment	5
Office Equipment	5
Software - Application	3

(All amounts are in KSEK, except shares and per share data)

Financial instruments

Financial instruments are initially recognized and subsequently measured based on the acquisition value.

Leasing

The entity as a lessor

When the economic risks and benefits associated with the leased assets have been transferred to the lessee, the leasing agreement is classified as a financial leasing agreement. The entity accounts for financial leasing agreements in accordance with the simplification rule in BFNAR 2012:1, which means that financial leasing agreements are accounted for as if they were operating leasing agreements.

When the economic risks and benefits associated with the leased assets have not been transferred to the lessee, the leasing agreement is classified as an operating leasing agreement. The assets that the entity is a lessor of are accounted for as fixed assets or current assets depending on when the leasing period ends. The leasing fee is determined annually and is recognized linearly over the leasing period.

The entity as a lessee

The entity accounts for all leasing agreements, financial as well as operating, as if they were operating leasing agreements. Operating leasing agreements are accounted for as costs linearly over the leasing period.

Receivables and payables

Unless otherwise is stated above, current receivables are valued at the lowest of the acquisition cost and the amount which is expected to be received to settle the receivable. Long-term receivables and long-term payables are valued to amortized cost after initial recognition. Other payables are valued at the amount which is expected to be paid to settle them. Other assets are valued at acquisition cost unless otherwise is stated above.

Business Model

As the world grapples with industry disruptions, evolving operational dynamics and a rapidly changing business environment, there is an urgent need to reimagine and reinvent the value-play an organization has in the eco system. HCL is accelerating its evolution into a next-generation technology services firm through its Mode 1-2-3 strategy. HCL defines the value zone for the IT outsourcing industry as the interface between employees and customers. We have developed a long-term strategy to focus the business model on HCL's competitive advantages. The business model drives continuous and sustained value for all its stakeholders while offering core services to its customers designed on Mode 1-2-3 strategy.

- Mode 1: Mode 1 comprises of our Core Services. ecosystems of the future. HCL Technologies leverages its Mode 1-2-3 strategy to help its customers thrive in the digital age, creating unmatched value, growth and innovation through collaborative eco systems consisting of employees, clients and partners. Each of the three modes have distinct outcomes and growth potential. We will continue to build and invest in our Mode 1-2-3 capabilities with the primary goal to be the partner of choice for our clients, globally. Apart from technological risks, we are also exposed to financial risks like credit rate risk, exchange rate risk etc. due to market dynamics. We also recognize risks that may arise due to social, environment, human rights and corruption.

Youth Ice Hockey

We at HCL believe that sports is a great way to address this important issue. Whether it is through the Manchester United Soccer Schools or engaging an entire ecosystem of fans, participants, volunteers, and partners through Cricket Australia, we have always believed that sports has a unique way of breaking down barriers and connecting people together. To continue this, we are proud to announce our latest partnership in Sweden, supporting Team Göta Traneberg youth ice hockey. Through this partnership our aim is to support a healthy and vibrant future for the local youth by connecting them with a sport that brings them joy while teaching valuable life skills of team building, responsibility, and leadership.

Ice hockey, a sport in which Sweden has excelled for many years, is attracting a growing number of female players. However, there are relatively few girls and women ice hockey clubs and competitions. Göta Traneberg, together with Ekerö IK and Hässelby/Källvesta, are creating a team—Team Västerort—to participate in the first girl's junior hockey league in Stockholm. Supporting this partnership also builds on our commitment to help build a gender-balanced society across industries. This is further supported by HCL's Women Lead initiative that we have launched in the Nordics to help aspiring women succeed in the corporate world.

The organization makes all the efforts to bring them not just into the job but the intrinsic culture of the organization. This helps in the overall benefits of shorter learning curves, stronger employee commitment and better attrition levels.
- Learn: As Learning and Competency Development continually prove to be the most sustainable sources of competitive advantage in IT industry, HCL Technologies Sweden AB strives to focus on bridging the demand and supply gap through re-skilling and up-skilling. Hence, trainings are provided not only for achieving proficiency in the current role but also for preparing for role enhancement. - Deploy: At HCL Technologies Sweden AB, one gets to be in a world of opportunities. Whether it is about working on an opportunity that came along an employee's way, or creating a new opportunity; the organization makes sure that employees are always positioned at the right place; and right time.
- Perform: Exchange Module: This platform and exercise helps capture individual conversations between employees and their managers and bridges the gap between Expectation and Feedback Exchange. At HCL Technologies Sweden AB, it is suggested to the employees at all levels to have discussion with their managers about their work-related goals and targets at the beginning of the review period as well as the trigger of project assignations during the review period. The review period will be 12 months (April to March) of a financial year. By default, the Goals created will be in private mode. Employees have the flexibility and can change the visibility to public/private mode taking into consideration the sensitivity towards goals for their projects. The feedback exchange happens twice a year, but the annual cycle is always the most important one; although the employees and managers are always encouraged for continuous conversations all through the year. Employees and Managers should have at least one quick review after a project gets over or once a quarter whichever is earlier to ensure goals are aligned, progress is on track and course correction if required, is discussed and executed well. It is important to record discussions post meetings and share status reports at regular intervals. After six months of the review period, these goals will form the basis of Feedback Exchange Review. The platform is monitored and thus, all employees are usually on track in setting their goals, which are then recorded by the manager and HR and executed as per mid-year or annual cycle.

- Recognize: Recognition plays an important role in encouraging and motivating employees towards higher levels of performance. They serve as a channel for commanding the efforts and achievements of a job well done or simply to go the 'extra mile'. Recognition could come to them as a note of appreciation from manager, an applause from peer or in the form of sharing the spotlight with the leadership. The form and timeliness of the recognition go a long way in ensuring that employees are emotionally connected with the organization.
