HCL Technologies at a glance

We are a leading global technology company built on four decades of innovation, a world-renowned employee-centric culture, a strong base of invention and risk-taking, and a relentless focus on customer relationships.

HCL Technologies' IT Apprenticeship Program

As one of the fastest growing leaders in technology, HCL Technologies is driving change and innovation for the entire industry.

Innovation, by its very nature, requires acquiring new skills for the organization. Hence, we focus on constantly ensuring a diverse and skilled talent pipeline for our company.

HCL Technologies' IT Apprentice Program is a great opportunity for students to achieve their career goals while pursuing formal education. Apprentices will gain access to training and real-life practical experience for a rewarding long-term career.

With this program, we are committed to train our apprentices to become the next-gen technology talent. This is a gateway to opportunities for a career in technology with one of the world's leading employers.

HCL Technologies' IT Apprenticeship Framework

Application process

Apply > Assessment Test > HR Discussion > Apprenticeship

Apprenticeship

As an apprentice, you'll join with other apprentices in a cohort. During the apprenticeship duration*, you will balance facilitated learning and on-the-job training that has been outlined to ensure you develop essential skills and competencies for the role.

*Duration: Dependent upon the Apprenticeship Program enrolled in, candidates will complete their learning within 8 to 12 months.

Post your facilitated learning, you'll work with your mentors to progress through your professional and personal skills Roadmap. You will get a chance to demonstrate new knowledge and competencies through hands-on application.

Full Time Employment

Upon successful completion of HCL's Apprenticeship Program, you will be offered full time Employee position.

You will also be eligible for tuition assistance and have an opportunity to pursue higher education while working.

Best of all, you are a contributing member of your team, putting forward ideas, taking on responsibilities and making choices about how you get the job just like any other HCLite's.
