

Data migration using Azure Data Factory

Simplify your journey to application and digital enterprise transformation

Introduction

In the modernized business environment of the cloud transformation journey, customers across the globe face challenges in moving from on-premise to the cloud environment. Microsoft Azure facilitates fully managed, serverless data integration services to solve the migration issues and enrich data generated in the cloud, by using reference to on-premise or other disparate data sources, which is known as Azure Data Factory (ADF). HCLTech supports its customers by leveraging the support of the Azure Data Factory to provide services for:

Creating data driven workflows in the cloud for orchestrating and automating data movement and data transformation

Migrating data between two cloud data sources

Migrating data between on-prem to Cloud Data Source (BY Cloud)

HCLTech also offers 90+ Built-Ins and maintenance-free connectors with no additional cost

About the solution

Azure Data Factory is a simplified platform for application and digital enterprise transformation which helps organizations to migrate to BY cloud from on-prem/3rd Party Cloud Source. ADF leverages and provides support for the products including Blue Yonder (BY) WMS, BY TMS and luminate products.
