Solution for Aerospace & Defense

S/4HANA enables digital transformation.

Nervous about the risk?
You are not alone.

You build word class products using time-tested tools and processes. You know that digital transformation will lead your business to a whole new level of performance.

Trouble is, in this industry, major change can expose you to major risk. This is especially true when the applications, people and processes supporting your S/4HANA journey don't arrive prepared and fully tuned to the A&D-specific complexity and requirements that make your job so demanding.

Reduce implementation cost, schedule & risk with HCL's Base90, the only SAP Qualified A&D solution for S/4HANA

Based on best practices gathered from over 20 years of experience working in A&D, Base90 was built by the most capable team in the industry, surrounded by experts with decades of A&D business process experience. Base90 extends S/4HANA by adding A&D specific configuration, enhancements, templates, and change management tools delivered with hundreds of hours of pre-developed training materials tailored to the way you do business.

HCL has you covered.

We understand and address the core processes of A&D and have created tools to fill the most common gaps in those processes.

Whether filling gaps in A&D specific business processes, or replacing specialized tools or applications you've developed to fill those gaps, Base90 for A&D has you covered.
