

HCL Amplified R&D Deliveries:

REGULATORY SERVICES SYNOPSIS

REACHING CLIENTS WITH A WIDE-RANGING MODEL OF REGULATORY SOLUTIONS THAT ENHANCES PERFORMANCE AND EXCELLENCE

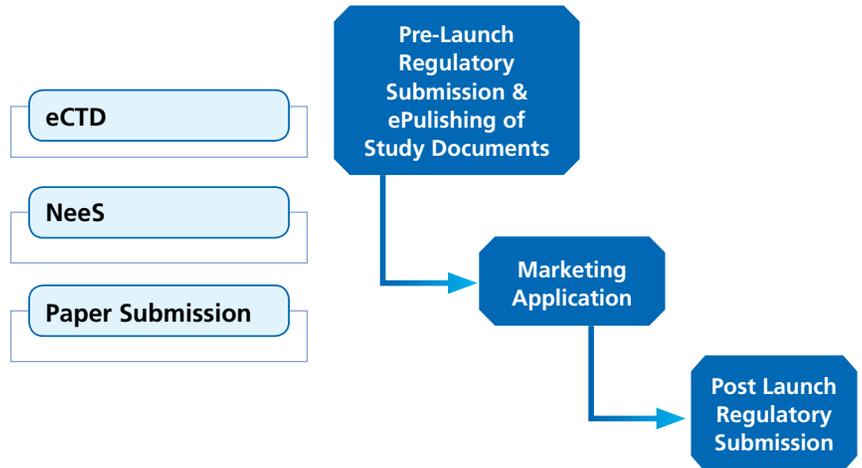

Regulatory organizations in Life Sciences are facing unique business challenges. More tough, global authority's requirements have created varied and complex opportunities for initial filings, lifecycle management and ongoing compliance.

There is a challenge to maintain authorization for a full portfolio of commercially available drugs, while continuing to innovate and progress new investigational compounds. Regulatory organizations are confronted with the challenge of supporting expansion to new patients and geographies, market desire for distinguished treatments and a simultaneous mandate to find more effective and efficient ways to operate. Meeting these mandates strains current capacity and diverts precious resources from the desired work focus: bringing differentiated new products to patients.

HCL offers a comprehensive delivery model of regulatory service options and solutions, designed to help regulatory organizations relieve capacity constraints, secure authorization and sustain global compliance. Our regulatory clients will realize improvements in submission ready deliverables, reduced cost of submission and ongoing maintenance, and streamlined offshore operations.

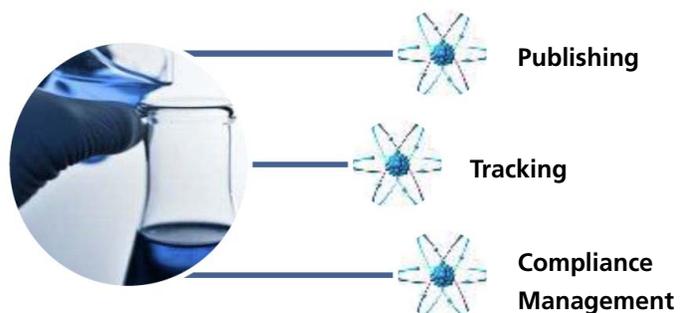

HCL EFFICIENT DELIVERY OFFERINGS FOR CLIENTS ACROSS THE GLOBE

HCL Regulatory Assistances Our strategic regulatory services provide focused solutions to help our clients enhance their Regulatory Affairs effectiveness and compliance. HCL has the ability to operate as an extension of our sponsors' regulatory group. We provide a holistic submission capability which can be utilized to deliver submissions by type (across the full product lifecycle) and/or by geographic area by using preferred technology platforms.

Publishing Insight:

Our enabling technologies help clients in the areas of publishing (Paper, eCTD & NeeS), tracking and Compliance measurement and management. HCL's Technology provides comprehensive process management controls. It connects processes, automates tasks and provides the underpinning of crossfunctional efficiency. Above all, HCL being a technology company with proven record with numerous clients around the globe is capable of operational executions on any given platform.

LABEL MANAGEMENT

HCL has capabilities to create labels in Structured Product Labeling format as Defined by US FDA. By doing so, our aim is to make SPL document exchangeable without the need for additional transformation steps. We also have the capability of converting SPL document into PLR (Physician Labeling Rule) format. Every SPL output is validated against ELIPS guidelines.

WHAT OUR CLIENTS TALK ABOUT US

An agreement with Glenmark Pharmaceuticals Ltd. to implement HCL's comprehensive drug labeling framework — easy Labeling Solution.

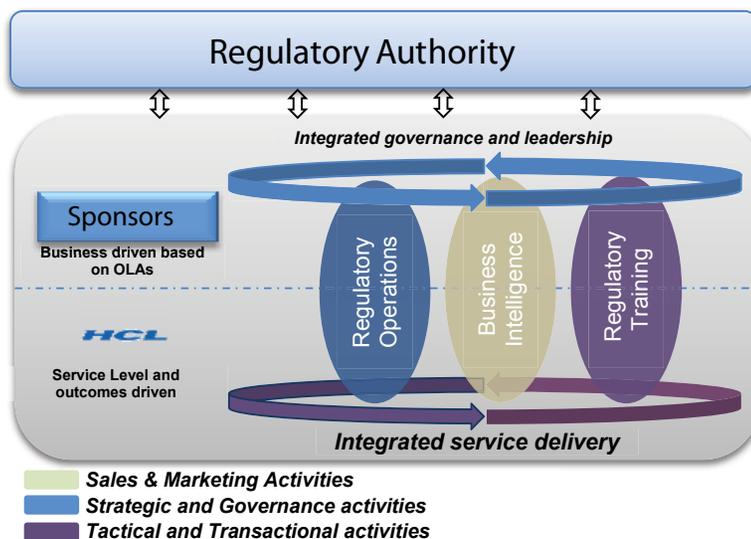

Developed specifically for pharmaceutical companies, HCL's easy Labeling Solution assisted Glenmark to streamline drug labeling, manage product information lifecycles and comply with the U.S. FDA's Structured Product Labeling (SPL) regulations.

SPL Conversion and electronic Submission

- Convert the drug product labels into XML format
- Place the XML-formatted information into the compliant SPL structure
- Ensure Compliance to regulatory authorities specifications
- Check the presence and format of data values
- Ensuring that your SPL is FDA submission ready
- Validate and Ensure that the SPL is region submission ready
- Submit SPL on your behalf via our Electronic Submissions Gateway (ESG) services

"Our association with HCL takes Glenmark's clinical practice to the next level as we cater to global consumers that have a very specific interest. Glenmark has chosen HCL's easy Labeling Solution because it promises to complement its efforts to improve management of the product information lifecycle".
