HCLTech achieves three key Google Cloud Partner Specializations

NEW YORK and NOIDA, India, April 11, 2025—HCLTech, a leading global technology company, has achieved Google Cloud Partner Specializations for Generative AI Services, Cloud Migration Services and Infrastructure Modernization Services.

HCLTech received these three Google Cloud Partner Specializations as part of the Google Partner Advantage program, bringing its total to seven Google Cloud specializations.

- Generative AI Services Specialization: By leveraging Google Vertex AI, the Google Cloud AI Adoption Framework and the Google Responsible Generative AI toolkit, HCLTech has demonstrated its ability to deliver AI-powered transformations that deliver greater impact for businesses.
- Cloud Migration Services: Focusing on cloud foundation building, security optimization and cost-effective migration strategies, HCLTech helps clients achieve seamless transitions to the cloud while maximizing the value of their cloud investments.
- Infrastructure Modernization Services: HCLTech enables clients to build and manage secure, scalable and efficient cloud environments while minimizing operational costs.

Already, AI Force, HCLTech's GenAI-led service transformation platform, integrates with Google's multimodal Large Language Model \(LLM\) Gemini, significantly increasing efficiency, speed and innovation in software development and operations.

"These specializations are a powerful testament to our broad and deep expertise across the cloud spectrum. We are committed to helping our clients navigate their most complex challenges and using Google Cloud's advanced solutions, empowering them to drive growth, scale efficiently and optimize business outcomes in the cloud," said Vijay Guntur, Chief Technology Officer and Head of Ecosystems, HCLTech.
